DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

- [1] Claims 1-3 are pending.

Drawings

[2] Figures 1A-1B should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- [3] The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3677

[4] Claim 1 recites the limitation "the type," "the central portion," "the top portion," "the bottom portion," and "the upper end portion" in the instant claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 2 recites the limitation "the top portion," and "the bottom portion" in the instant claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "the inside" in the instant claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

[5] The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

[6] Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as clearly anticipated by Fountoulakis, US- 4,501,050, because the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, or in public use or on sale in this country more than one (1) year prior to the application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3677

The shape and appearance of Fountoulakis is identical in all material respects to that of the claimed design, Hupp v. Siroflex of America Inc., 122 F.3d 1456, 43 USPQ2d 1887 (Fed. Cir. 1997).

As for Claim 1, Fountoulakis teaches of a clutch (10) for post earrings which has a clutch (10), a longitudinal hole (42), and an outer cover (30) with an edge part protruded therefrom (36), wherein the improvement comprises:

said longitudinal hole (42) formed on the central portion thereof, said longitudinal hole getting smaller at the top portion thereof and larger at the bottom portion thereof (42-larger near the ear than away as shown in Fig. 4);

said clutch (10) having a plurality of fixing projections (26) with which an earring pin (20) is guided to said longitudinal hole (42); and said outer cover (30) for covering said longitudinal hole (42) and said clutch said outer cover (30) having said edge part (36) protruded on the upper end portion thereof.

Re: Claim 2, wherein said longitudinal hole gets smaller at the top portion thereof and larger at the bottom portion thereof, [so as to prevent said earring pin from being removed therefrom].

Examiner's note: the above statement in brackets ([]) is an example of intended use, as it fails to further limit the structure of the claimed invention. Note that it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Art Unit: 3677

Re: Claim 3, wherein said clutch (10) is provided with said plurality of fixing projections (26) that are disposed in the inside of said outer cover (30 in Fig. 4) and [adapted to prevent said outer cover and said clutch from being separated or damaged].

It has been held that the recitation that an element is "adapted to" perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.

Conclusion

[7] The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The following patents are cited further to show the state of the art with respect to this particular type of decorative element; as well as their extreme relevance to the current application as many read extensively onto the claimed invention: please see submitted notice of reference cited.
